The Institute shall be set up in collaboration & Association of some of the best Institutes, Universities & Professional Associations in the world. The courses & faculties shall have dual certification programs (award of diplomas/degrees from 2 or 3 Institutes/Universities).

The next Kurdish Government shall use the expertise of this Institute to set up other Universities, Professional Institutes & Research Centres in the country.

Partnerships

The Institute shall collaborate with Universities, Institutions, Professional Associations, Government agencies and corporate bodies the world over to design & conduct various categories of courses.

The Feasibility

The Proposed Institute is designed to be financially autonomous and shall rely on income from its courses, training programmers and Industry/Corporate Services for its existence and growth.

Following is excerpts from the Preliminary Feasibility Report:

Risk Factors

Political Risks – The new Nation shall have its share of Political confusion & uncertainty during the initial days that would affect the setting up, rising of funds to set the Institute, recruiting of competent faculty & employees, students, etc. This uncertainty may also make it difficult to find the right partners & collaborators for the Institute.

Financial Uncertainty – The Freedom Fighters for the Independent Kurdistan might find it difficult to raise the necessary funds to set up the Institute, and hence recruit competent faculty and offer them sufficiently acceptable remuneration. Difficulty in raising sufficient funds may also hamper the development of the Institute and the timely completion of the campus, acquiring sufficient facilities/equipments, etc.

The above issues are general in nature and are common to all such Projects. However, the founders this Institute shall take sufficient care & contingencies to address the above risks.
